Life is a series of teachable moments and each of us a book of them. A series of circumstances, from triumph to tragedy that we experience as a result of our own actions or by the one's of others. No matter how they arise or rise up against us, how they continue to affect and influence us depends on what we choose to tell ourselves about them in our words, attitudes, and actions. This book is a devotional collection of stories, thoughts and insights to spiritually encourage, exhort, inspire and challenge. A series of personal revelations about words and stories from the headlines through history that have touched one life that I hope will find a way to do the same for you. A touch that I hope will help others find the words that define and give meaning to their own lives. Remember, God created the universe through words but we should never allow ours to destroy someone's world. Words are small things with great power, never underestimate the one's you speak...or don't.
