The history of New Hampshire Jeremy Belknap

"It being a time of peace, after a long and distressing war, the improvement of which the Province was capable, in regard to its natural productions, lumber and naval stores, rose into view and became objects of close attention both here and in England. As early as 1668, the government of Massachusetts, Maff- Ret under which the Province then was, had reserved for the public use all white pine trees of twenty-four inches in diameter, at three feet from the ground. In King William's reign, a surveyor of the woods was appointed Mnic*.

1717. by the Crown; and an order was sent to the Earl of Bellamont, to cause acts(...)".
