If you read the "Articulate Storyline 2: The Essentials" book, you already know how to plan eLearning projects, create Storyline projects from scratch, record screen actions, add interactivity, work with hotspots and Triggers, add audio, work with Variables, add quizzes, and publish content. So what else could there possibly be to learn about Storyline? Think custom Themes and Templates. Think custom navigation. Think gamification! Done thinking? We're not… think video controls and custom slides, random quizzes, and incorporating JavaScript. You'll learn all this… and adding accessibility and reporting to a Learning Management System too! And you'll learn it all using our proven step-by-step, skills and drills approach to learning.

The first module covers creating custom themes and building a project template, from scratch. In module 2, learn how to work with motion paths and build custom course navigation. Then it's off to module 3 where you will learn to add gamification aspects to your eLearning. (You'll build a Jeopardy-style game that will engage your learners from the beginning to the end of the lesson.)

In module 4, you'll learn that there's more to video than simply inserting it and allowing it to automatically play. During the first part of this module, you will learn how to insert YouTube Videos (or videos from other video streaming services such as Vimeo), and how to control the playback of a video.

In module 5 you'll learn to create a random quiz. And then, in module 6, extend Storyline by using Triggers to perform complex calculations. And then you'll execute JavaScript to print and save lesson content externally.

Last but not least, module 7 introduces you to accessible eLearning where you'll learn to create closed captions and other features that will enable you do support learners with disabilities. And then you'll learn how to prepare your eLearning project for use within a Learning Management System. All that, and most people will be able to finish this book in two days or less!
