Within these pages you will find a number of card effects based around the 'Impossible Location' presentation. Essentially the main effect is that a freely chosen card is lost in the deck by the spectator under impossible conditions and you are still able to find it.

I have always been fascinated by this type of effect and have looked at a number of these types of effects. However, my interest was heightened by the other methods which led me to look to develop my own ideas.

What follows therefore is a series of ideas that allow you to locate a freely chosen card lost in the deck. There are different methods depending on the amount of set up preferred, if any, and all use various devious methods to accomplish the end result.

I hope you enjoy these methods as I have.
