Around the World in Eighty Days Jules Verne

Jules Gabriel Verne (1828 – 1905) was a French author who pioneered the science-fiction genre. The story "Around the World in Eighty Days" starts in London on October 2, 1872. A rich English gentleman and bachelor living in solitude at Number 7 Savile Row, Burlington Gardens lives a modest life with habits carried out with mathematical precision. He is a member of the Reform Club and gets involved in an argument over an article in The Morning Chronicle, stating that with the opening of a new railway section in India, it is now possible to travel around the world in 80 days. He accepts a wager for £20,000 from his fellow club members, which he will receive if he makes it around the world in 80 days. Accompanied by his butler, Monsieur Passepartout, he leaves London by train at 8:45 P.M. on October 2, 1872, and thus is due back at the Reform Club at the same time 80 days. Does he make it and win the wager? The story was a best-seller at the time, and is still a highly educational all-time favourite.
